

1. Theories of Personality

Question 1: Psychosexual Fixation

A client consistently displays a pattern of being excessively clean, orderly, and stubborn. According to Sigmund Freud's psychosexual stages of development, this client is likely fixated in which stage?

- A) Oral stage
- B) Anal stage
- C) Phallic stage
- D) Latency stage

Correct Answer: B

2. Theories of Personality

Question 2: Humanistic Drive

Maria is highly motivated to reach her full potential, seek spiritual growth, and live autonomously. Which theorist's framework best explains Maria's drive toward "self-actualization"?

- A) B.F. Skinner
- B) Carl Rogers
- C) Albert Bandura
- D) Karen Horney

Correct Answer: B

3. Theories of Personality

Question 3: Primary Motivation

According to Alfred Adler's Individual Psychology, what is the primary motivating force behind human behavior and personality development?

- A) The striving for superiority or perfection to overcome feelings of inferiority
- B) The resolution of unconscious sexual and aggressive conflicts

C) The collective unconscious and its archetypes

D) The reinforcement history shaped by the environment

Correct Answer: A

4. Theories of Personality

Question 4: Big Five Trait Facets

Using the Big Five Personality Traits (Five-Factor Model), an individual who is highly organized, reliable, punctual, and detail-oriented would score high on which specific dimension?

A) Neuroticism

B) Agreeableness

C) Openness to Experience

D) Conscientiousness

Correct Answer: D

5. Theories of Personality

Question 5: Deep Psyche Structures

Carl Jung proposed that certain universal, inherited predispositions and images are shared by all human beings. What did he call this layer of the psyche?

A) Personal unconscious

B) Collective unconscious

C) Shadow archetype

D) Ego ideal

Correct Answer: B

6. Psychological Assessment

Question 1: Consistency of Scores

A psychometrician administers a newly developed intelligence test to a group of students twice within a two-week period. The scores from both administrations are highly consistent. This consistency demonstrates that the test has good:

- A) Face validity
- B) Content validity
- C) Test-retest reliability
- D) Alternate-form reliability

Correct Answer: C

7. Psychological Assessment

Question 2: Stimulus Classification

During a psychological evaluation, a clinician administers the Rorschach Inkblot Test. What type of assessment tool is this test considered?

- A) Objective personality test
- B) Projective personality test
- C) Neuropsychological battery
- D) Aptitude test

Correct Answer: B

8. Psychological Assessment

Question 3: Evaluation Standards

Which of the following best describes the primary purpose of utilizing a "norm-referenced test" in psychological assessment?

- A) To determine whether a test taker has mastered a specific educational standard or objective
- B) To evaluate a test taker's performance by comparing it to the performance of a defined peer group
- C) To diagnose organic brain damage through behavioral tasks
- D) To eliminate all sources of measurement error from the final score

Correct Answer: B

9. Psychological Assessment

Question 4: Error Band Implications

If a psychological test has a high standard error of measurement (SEM), what does this imply about the obtained test scores?

- A) The scores are highly precise and free from error
- B) The test has exceptionally high construct validity
- C) There is a wide margin of error, meaning the scores are less reliable
- D) The test is too difficult for the target population

Correct Answer: C

10. Psychological Assessment

Question 5: Ethical Boundary Breaches

Which ethical principle is violated if a psychometrician leaves completed psychological test booklets and scoring sheets unattended on an office desk where unauthorized visitors can see them?

- A) Informed consent
- B) Test security and confidentiality
- C) Competence in interpretation
- D) Dual relationships

Correct Answer: B